VALUABLE FAULT FINDING

Constructive criticism, even though we may not agree with it, is always valuable. It is some such way that the Sherrill committee is serving a good purpose in its survey of Ohio state government.

Routine administration of public departments puts them in a rut. Now a rut is sometimes useful in helping to stay out of danger when the road runs close to the edge of a dangerous situation but it is a good plan to stop, at intervals, and see whether some other course may not offer advantages.

The Sherrill committee is primarily a fault-finding agency. Its job is to point out things which are wrong with state government and it is doing a valuable work with its criticism. It is without authority to do more than make recommendations.

Many of the committee's findings are based on opinions of its members. Practically all of its numerous reports on various activities have brought the fire of opposition. Such controversial subjects as the "frills" in education which the committee criticizes are invitations to battle. There are competent educators who regard the things the committee refers to as playing an important part in the development of the pupil. The big benefit from the survey is that it raises all these points for discussion. Most of its important recommendations can be carried out only by legislative action. Some, such as its proposals for the schools, can be handled by executive action. Nothing in its report is mandatory.

Good comes from the investigation if its never goes farther than to stir officials and the public to some thought and discussion of the matters with which it deals.

WHEN BUILDING BEGINS

The thing which the United States needs as much as anything to bring about definite recovery is a return of the building industry to that state of activity which will balance the accumulated deficiency in new houses.

The average of building construction in the country is only 6 per cent of normal according to government figures. That is only a part of the story. Since the early part of 1929 building has been far below normal and a dearth of homes has resulted. Most cities now face an actual shortage of desirable homes and to meet the situation and overcome the deficiency a construction rate considerably above normal will be required.

The government is disappointed at the lethargy apparent in the industry. The FHA and private banking interests have both tried to stir the public to action but the result is far less than they had hoped.

New building has not kept pace with the usual withdrawal of houses from use. In many cities there are fewer dwellings available for use today than there were in 1929.

The reason probably lies in the fact that depression years absorbed the reserve funds of many who otherwise would be builders. Even though the government agency be liberal in its help, the would-be home owner cannot build without some funds of his own and many lack the required assets to qualify for loans. Despite the need and the desire for new houses, the probability of any marked boom in the building trades is not found in an inspection of the immediate signs.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Diary: With my wife to call on Valerie Edwards, an erewhile London Gaiety girl, brought to bed of a burn. Then through the higgledy of Washington market and home to find letters from Thyra Winslow, Idwal Jones and treasured telegrams from C. G. Norris and Leonore Urie.

In the afternoon palavering with Gene Buck, among first of my friends in the city and still mightily high in my affections. Then to see Florence Kahn, congress lady from California, and tried to sound her as to the next Republican nominee but she evasive. I think Borah, or Landon, of Kansas.

Ethel Roche to dinner and we talked of a novel she is planning. And afterward driving through Chinatown, Little Italy and along the docks. Then dropping her at the young Will Hearst's and reading vignettes of the notables Ralph D. Blumenthal has met in London.

One of Broadway's over night pitter-patters is launching something new in a soft drink. There's a small army that will try out any strangely named libation at least once. As a result enterprising drink stands put out almost daily concoctions, with bannering ballyhoo, to assuage this curious thirst. The popularity is usually for the day, but, as ingredients are inexpensive and nothing to think up, the innovations are on the profit side. I noticed one today called "The Owl's Hoot."

Hollywood soothsayers predict a cycle of pirate pictures. G. man yarns are about played out, the public still hankers for strong meat, vinegar and violence, and since gangster films are frowned on, what better than pirate epics? Teach, Bluebeard, Lafitte, Thomas the Lambkin and Captain Kidd—what were they but gangsters in cocked hats? And what was Captain Morgan but a shiver-my-timbers super-Capone?

Valentine Williams in a postscript from the Guards' Club, London, observes: "I sat next to Shaw at the theatre. At 79 he has a ruddy complexion, clear eye, vigorous gesture and the darting mind of a wren in a hedgerow. Few at 40 equal him in alertness. In a tour of the Cotswold we met James Laver (Nymph Errant), Francis Brett Young and other Penman Jims."

Personal nomination for the still most forlorn of the poor little rich girls—the former Barbara Hutton.

One of New York's most popular grand dames—with a name that threads society columns almost daily—does not smoke in public. Neither does she smoke cigars but does smoke for a half hour in the privacy of her boudoir before retiring. Her smoking relaxation is a Turkish narghile, a custom she picked up while living with her husband during a diplomatic career in Constantinople. Then, of course, there's the Wright, of the Social Register, who puffs big black cigars—the bigger and blacker the better—in public as well as private. Dolores, the show girl, smoked a thimble pipe in her dressing room and I hear of a beefy burlesque lady on Second Avenue addicted to the rattled Pittsburgh stogie.

Hail and farewell! Prince Alexis Mdivani, on leaving a crowd at the Ritz bar in Paris for Spain and his fatal accident called out. "So long! I'm off to get away from things!" Paris claims six women are heart broken by his passing. His personality was astounding. Laddie Sanford was among hundreds who met him with prejudice and wound up a fervent admirer He won them all.

Bagatelles: John Charles Thomas, the singer, has become a speed boat enthusiast. . . . Irene Franklin was recently reported dead and married the same day. . . . Sylvia Sidney likes a chow mein breakfast now and then. . . . Karl Kitchen's father was once mayor of Cleveland, O. . . . Al Jolson has a phonograph record of rain on a tin roof for sleepless nights. . . . Edison Marshall, globe trotting author, is regarded by his plantation servants in Georgia as "a book drummer." . . . Jack Lait, a grandpaw, is still the swiftest turner out of newspaper copy. . . .

The only time I have qualms about dogs is when the Ben Ali Haggin Boston meets a pleasant bouncer who owes me $50 and will not pay. The enthusiastic greeting the fool gives him surpasses that for his master after a long absence. He leaps upon him with joyous barks, licks his shoes, rolls contently at his feet and otherwise gives the impression: "You are the only man in the world worth while!"

I hear that Will Beebe is willing to risk his fame as a scientist on the reliability of these three premises: No. 1—There is no known cause or cure for baldness. No. 2—Cat fear is the only phobia born in humans. The rest are acquired. No. 3—There is no authentic record of an original bite of a human by a shark. A good story to touch off dinner table argument.

From a home town paper: "People who remember McIntyre as a young man say he showed no flair for fancy dress."

Yeah! Well how about those red plush ear tabs with the brass slip rod?

THE STARS SAY

For Wednesday, Sept. 4

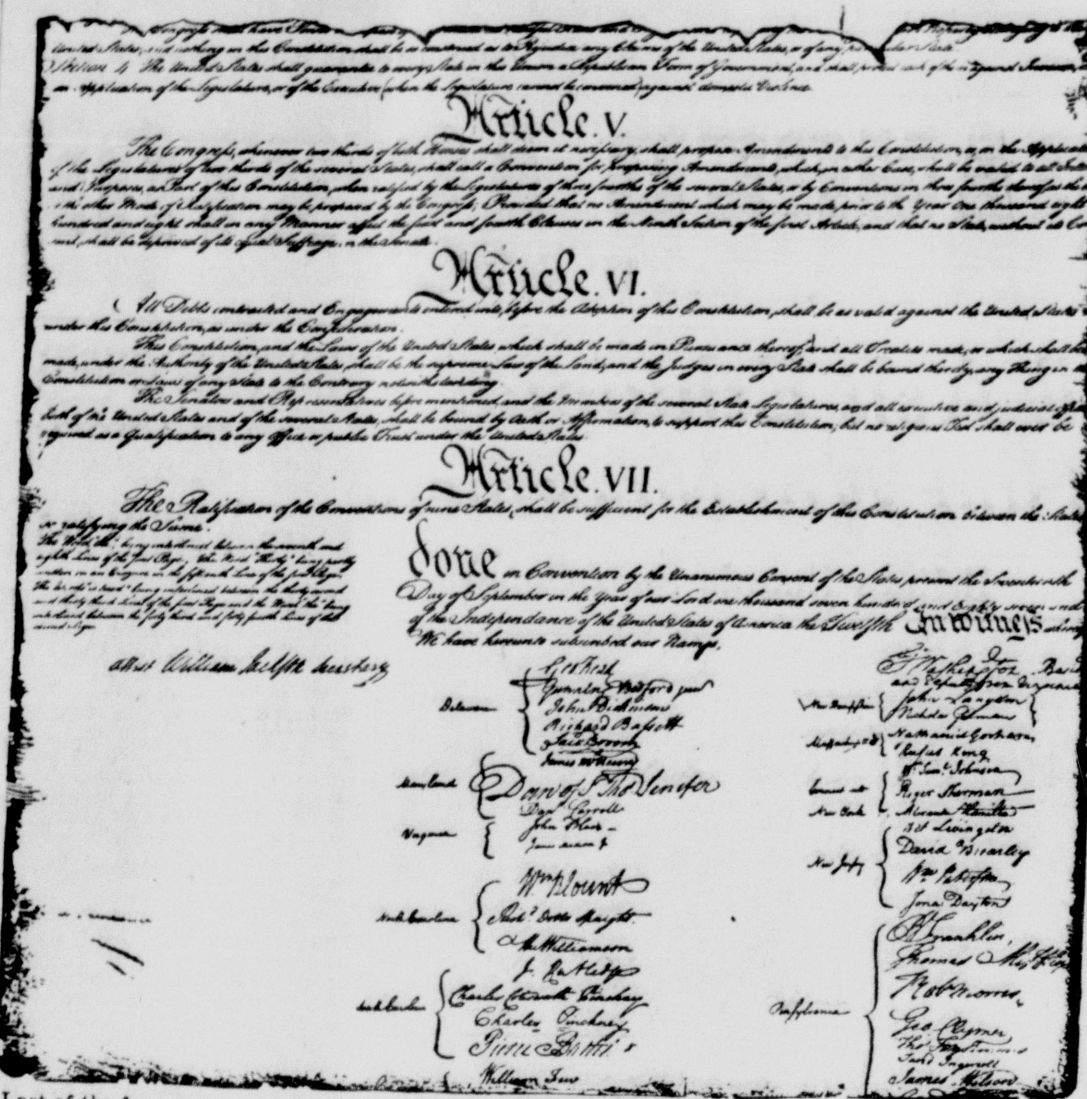

A very lively, progressive and prosperous state of affairs is read from this day's lunar transits. It is an excellent time for the launching of new plans and projects, with the assurance of the friendly aid and substantial support of "big business" or others in influential positions. Solid propositions as well as speculative and adventurous enterprises are likely to culminate fortunately.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of splendid progress in all affairs, business as well as personal. It is a time for seeking the friendly support of those in high places, who will be found disposed to be generous in their solid support and influence.

A child born on this day may be enterprising, adventurous, ambitious and progressive as well as generous, noble and kindly.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland
New York City

FOR A GOOD many years left-handedness was considered a serious drawback. By some extremists it was actually interpreted as a forerunner of serious nervous disorder. But we are learning a lot. I am glad to say that the old ideas about left-handedness have completely changed. It is no longer looked upon as something to be ashamed of and a handicap to progress.

Yet there are many who still regard left-handedness as seriously undesirable. I often receive inquiries from mothers who regard it as a "problem." Only recently a mother wrote me asking whether her left-handed child "could ever be normal and healthy."

Geniuses Often "Lefties"

What is so important about "handedness?" It is not vitally important, I assure you. A child who is left-handed is just as likely to be normal as his right-handed brother or sister. Some of the most brilliant men in history were left-handed. Many outstanding surgeons and engineers, draughtsmen and lawyers are in this class.

In the study of this problem there has been established the conviction that it is unwise to curb the left-handed tendency. When the child shows a definite inclination to use his left hand it is inadvisable to force him to use the other.

It does not mean, of course, that the child should be encouraged to use his left hand. But if he shows a marked tendency or preference for the use of the left hand, do not scold him or fuss with him about the matter. Let him go along using the hand of his choice. Of course, it is better if you can by gentle means inspire the use of the right hand, but never force the child to overcome his natural bent.

Don't Oppose Nature

A child who is compelled to use the right hand against his natural inclinations often develops signs of irritability and nervousness. Sooner or later, strange as it may seem, insistence on right-handedness may result in speech defects such as stammering and stuttering. These symptoms disappear as soon as the child is again permitted to use his left hand.

Please bear in mind that right-handedness may be regarded as a social convention. More than thirty per cent of the world's population are believed to be born left-handed. A quarter of this number may develop the use of the right hand but in reality they remain left-handed.

Perhaps the least the mother can do is to encourage the left-handed child to use the right hand as well as the left. This creates a desirable balance and dexterity. The child who can use both hands equally well is fortunate. He has an asset that will be valuable when he reaches adult life. In many professions and callings the dextrous and skillful use of both hands is a great advantage.

CHAPTER XXXV

Karen, sire, rising painfully, and off the chow, then sank back in a faint. The detective found the task of binding Whipple Bannister knelt at the wound on the girl's side, leaving her forehead on the last drop of water in his glass. "Look, Toole," he said, "look at the knife stuck in her."

The horn handle of a tri-corned dagger protruded from Karen's breast a few inches above the blade embedded at least an inch in her leg. Bannister's fingers had reached for several times only to be withdrawn as his eyes roamed to the pallid, beautiful face, immobile for the first time he had looked upon it.

"You do it, Toole," he quavered. "And you must bind—"

"Here comes now," Karen must apologize for my earlier behavior," Whipple interjected.

"I am assured that I never shall act. You will observe, never that he merely intended the fugitive and—"

"Dry up, you yellow hound!" cried Toole. "Save that silky patter for the chaplain in the death house. There's nothing ahead of you but a rush telegram that'll tell you to the hot seat!"

"One with Whipple shrugged. "One with Karen and the other with cones," he resignedly. "Both American. And to think that I am contemplating becoming a man of that country!"

Bannister's knuckles whitened as a row of small ivory balls as fingers curled inward; then his wandered slowly to the heavy on his right foot.

The impending ignominy a wash pallor spread over Whipple's face. But he was not altogether out of luck.

Bergere reached the ground, Dick's beckoning finger heaped over Karen. The three men and their heads away and a little gasp brought a twinge Bannister's face. The Abbe had the dagger. After a few minutes they heard him call out: "Right! It was just above a mark. Nothing serious. I got it all bound up."

Karen's eyes opened slowly. She heard her head with a little of pain. Bannister and Whipple started toward her, but she jerked his prisoner back.

OPEN EVENINGS BY APPOINTMENT

Mrs. Kyser Is Hostess At Reunion

Mrs. Lizzie Kyser, who celebrated her 70th birthday Sunday, was honor guest at a birthday dinner and family reunion at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Niederhiser on Morris ave.

The birthday dinner table was centered with a large pink and white cake with candles. Appointments for the tables which were set on the lawn, were carried out in pink and white tones. Places were arranged for 36 members of the Jacob Kyser family at the dinner, served at 1 p. m. Sunday.

A handkerchief shower was a feature of the afternoon, the honor guest receiving a number of lovely gifts.

The group during a brief business session agreed to form a reunion association to meet next year the third Saturday in August, the place to be announced later. Officers for the new association are: President, Howard Kyser of Columbiana; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. John Niederhiser of Salem.

Members of the family from Leetonia, Lisbon, Columbiana, Youngstown and North Georgetown attended the gathering Sunday.

Mrs. Andrew MacLeod Is Hostess

Miss Catherine Gibson of Salem and Misses Josephine and Florence Manning, the latter of New York city, sisters of Mrs. Andrew MacLeod, were honor guests at a beautifully appointed luncheon Saturday at the Youngstown Country club, given by Mrs. MacLeod. Today's Pattern

TWO-PIECE PAJAMAS Pattern 2384

If she's old enough to wear 'em and like 'em, she's old enough to make her own. Do you agree? They're really very easy to make, and involve only the simplest dressmaking rules. The cute, shirtwaist-type blouse tucks a lot of style into bell-bottom trousers, which are joined to a small yoke at the waist in front. An elastic through the back makes them hug the waistline. A dainty flowered seersucker, a few yards of inexpensive crepe, or flannel, for later in the season, will make as attractive a pair of pajamas as this Junior's ever owned, and she'll be so proud of her first triumph she'll be making her own frocks soon.

Pattern 2384 is available in sizes 6, 8, 10, 12, 14, and 16. Size 10 takes 3 1/2 yards 36 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. Be sure to state size.

The Anne Adams pattern book for fall and winter is just out! Wars on Polygamy

"We are determined to ferret out these strange marriage cults in the wilderness and smash them for all time." This ultimatum was laid down by E. Elmo Bollinger, above, Mohave county prosecutor in Arizona, as criminal action was taken against eight residents of Short Creek, Ariz., accused of polygamy. The situation came to light when some of the women, applying for relief, listed themselves as "plural wives".

Christian Roth Sails Through County Tennis Tournament Without Tasting Defeat

Champ Keeps Singles Crown By Defeating Bowman In Afternoon

Composer-Player Handicapped by Sprained Ankle; Jack Mullins Takes Solitary Role In Doubles Match and Defeats Emeny and Moore

For the second consecutive year, Christian Roth emerged from all of his matches in Columbiana County Tennis tournament at the Salem Country club without losing a set.

Roth, yesterday, retained his singles title by downing a somewhat crippled Brooks Bowman in the finals, 6-1, 6-4, 6-3.

Bowman, better known as the young composer of two popular songs, "East of the Sun and West of the Moon" and "Love and a Dime," suffered a sprained ankle during a morning warm-up session and all during the match with Roth was unable to move about the courts with any amount of speed. He appeared for his match clad in his usual white shorts and blue tennis shoes but his right ankle, more than normal size, was tightly wound with gauze and tape.

Bob Davis, tournament director, endeavored to have Bowman postpone the match until a later date, but the song-writing racket star insisted on taking the courts.

Roth displayed no sympathy for his injured opponent as he marched through the first set 6-1 and continued by winning the second set 6-4 and the third and final set 6-3.

In only open phase of the game did Bowman appear to have the best of the champion, that of keeping him playing in the back court during most of the match. Roth, usually a hard-hitting chop stroke and net player, was forced to remain near the base line the majority of the time in order to defeat his crippled opponent.

SPORTS Chatter

Can the powerful Stanford Redskins, for a third straight year led by Bobby Grayson, "Bones" Hamilton and "Monk" Moserip, once again clean up on all other Pacific Coast elevens this fall?

This is the question that puzzles Claude E. ("Dix") Thornhill, head coach at Stanford, and his two chief aides, Ernie Nevers and Jim Lawson, as they prepare for their 1935 campaign.

In some quarters it is believed that Grayson, Hamilton, Moserip and their teammates who burned up coast gridirons in 1933 as sophomores, are repeated last year as juniors, may "go stale" in their senior year.

Thornhill and his aides believe that their stars, who gathered in all-American acclaim from critics in all parts of the nation during the past two seasons, will be as "hot as ever." But, at the same time, they realize Howard Jones at Southern California, Jimmy Phelan at Washington and "Stub" Allison at California, among others, are particularly pointing for Stanford this season.

Stanford is well fixed for the 1935 gridiron wars. Only two regulars, Buck Van Dellen, left halfback, and Claude Callaway, right tackle, are missing from the first team. Eighteen letter winners, including nine regulars, and a group of promising prospects from the reserve and Fresh ranks are ready for duty.

Loss of Callaway, ill since last spring, is the severest blow to Thornhill. An outstanding player last season, Callaway was considered by many coast experts as the equal of Bob Reynolds, Stanford's all-American tackle, who returns to the fold.

Grayson at fullback, of course, will again be the mainstay in the backfield. Thornhill plans to shift Hamilton, rated by other coaches as "Grayson's equal" from right half to left, where he will do more ball carrying. Frank Alustiza, sensational quarterback, will be moved into the right half post.

At quarterback, Thornhill plans to use Bill Paulman, kicking and passing ace of last year's Fresh eleven.

John Reisner and Fred Williams, halfbacks, and Ray Todd, under study to Grayson, are three trained backs who probably will again see plenty action.

In the line, Callaway's tackle position is the only hole to fill. Dale Beedle, captain of the 1933 Fresh, is rated first choice for the job, although there are at least a half dozen other strong candidates.

The end positions with all-American Moserip and Keith Topping in the first lineup are Thornhill's best fortified spots. Three lettermen, Carl Schott, Alex Trompas and Jack Clark, return for action at the wings, with five Fresh ends also hopeful of winning regular berths.

Larry Rouble, a Coast favorite; Woody Adams, Bob Black and Jack Walton, are hoped to take care of the guard jobs in excellent fashion, as are Wes Muller, the giant, and Alf Brandin. Muller's crack substitute, are of the center's duties.

The Redskins are expected to again pile up an enviable defensive record. Last year only two touchdowns were scored against Stanford by coast rivals—one by Santa Clara, the other by California.

CARDS DEFEAT PIRATES TWICE OVER HOLIDAY

Dean Brothers Thrown Into Both Frays, 4-3, And 4-1

BY ANDY CLARKE, Associated Press Sports Writer

Back in their own balliwick for the remainder of the season, those pennant-bent Cards are going to be hard to beat.

They threw the Dean brothers into the fray yesterday and emerged with a double triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-3, and 4-1. Fresh off the road with no more swaying sleepers to think about, the fractious crew went to work with a will.

In the first game they came from behind in the ninth to tie the score and then battled along evenly until the sixteenth inning when Medwick doubled and came home on a single by Jim Collins. It was the only hit Collins got in the game.

Paul Dean Scores

Paul Dean, who entered the team in the tenth after Hallahan was retired for a pinch hitter, was credited with his 16th victory.

Dizzy recorded his 23rd win in the second game. It was a soft job for dusk halted the contest after the fifth inning.

The 25,000 fans who flocked to Fenway park saw 25 innings of baseball between the Boston Red Sox and the Washington Senators as the Sox took the first game 9-8 in 11 innings and the Senators won the second, 3-2 in 13 innings.

Jack Wilson, relief pitcher in the opener, clouted one into the center field bleachers in the 11th inning and accounted for the winning run.

The Sox came from behind to knot the nightcap in the ninth. Kress hit a single to bring Myers in with the winning run in the 13th.

The Cubs and Cincinnati also split a double bill, Chicago taking the opener 3-1 and the Reds the second game 4-2.

Cleveland Splits

Billy Herman's hitting was the margin of victory in the first game. He collected a double, two singles and a sacrifice. Errors by Herman and Hartnett allowed the Reds to step away to a 3-0 lead off Bill Lee early in the second game.

The St. Louis Browns broke even in a doubleheader with the Cleveland Indians, taking the first 4-1 and losing the nightcap 7-2.

Mel Harder slumped in the third inning of the first game to allow the Browns to score all of their runs and then he retired 15 in a row. The Indians batted clear around in the third inning of the second game, driving Van Atto from the mound as four markers went up in their favor.

The Detroit Tigers took both games from the Chicago White Sox to increase their lead in the American league to nine full games. Then left the White Sox hanging on the brink of the first division.

Schoolboy Rowe won the first game 6-1 as 31,000 fans, the largest holiday morning crowd in the history of Navin field, looked on. He hit a home run with a man on base while hanging up victory No. 17.

Elder Auker kept seven hits well scattered as he chalked up his 15th victory in the afternoon encounter.

Layden Plans Few Changes In Rockne System This Year

(Editor's Note—This is the first of a series of articles on football prospects at leading universities and colleges for the 1935 season.)

By WILLIAM WEEKES, Associated Press Sports Writer

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 3.—Elmer Layden has about decided he will have to take some liberties with the Notre Dame football system handed down by Knute Rockne, this season.

Faced with as tough a schedule as any Irish squad has dared, and unexpectedly deprived of stars on whom he had counted, Layden contemplates further development of a "weak side" attack. Almost without exception, Notre Dame's great teams of the past ran most of their plays to the right, with the left halfbacks carrying the ball.

Change Beneficial

Last year, however, when the Orthodox attack failed to function consistently, Layden switched, shooting more plays to the left. The result was that a right halfback, George Melinkovich, did more running and less blocking and became the team's leading ground gainer and scorer. Layden's younger brother, Mike, as Melinkovich's first understudy, came in for a share of the honors, and is likely to be even better this year.

Layden, although about as pessimistic as even coaches ever become, is not particularly worried over his backs. The line problem, however, has him guessing. Only Wayne Miller, an end, and tackle Joe Michutta, of the five linemen Layden had planned on, are back. Captain-elect Joe Sullivan died last March. Jack Robinson was declared ineligible for having played five minutes on a "B" team game in 1931. Bill Smith, a veteran guard, was lost through illness.

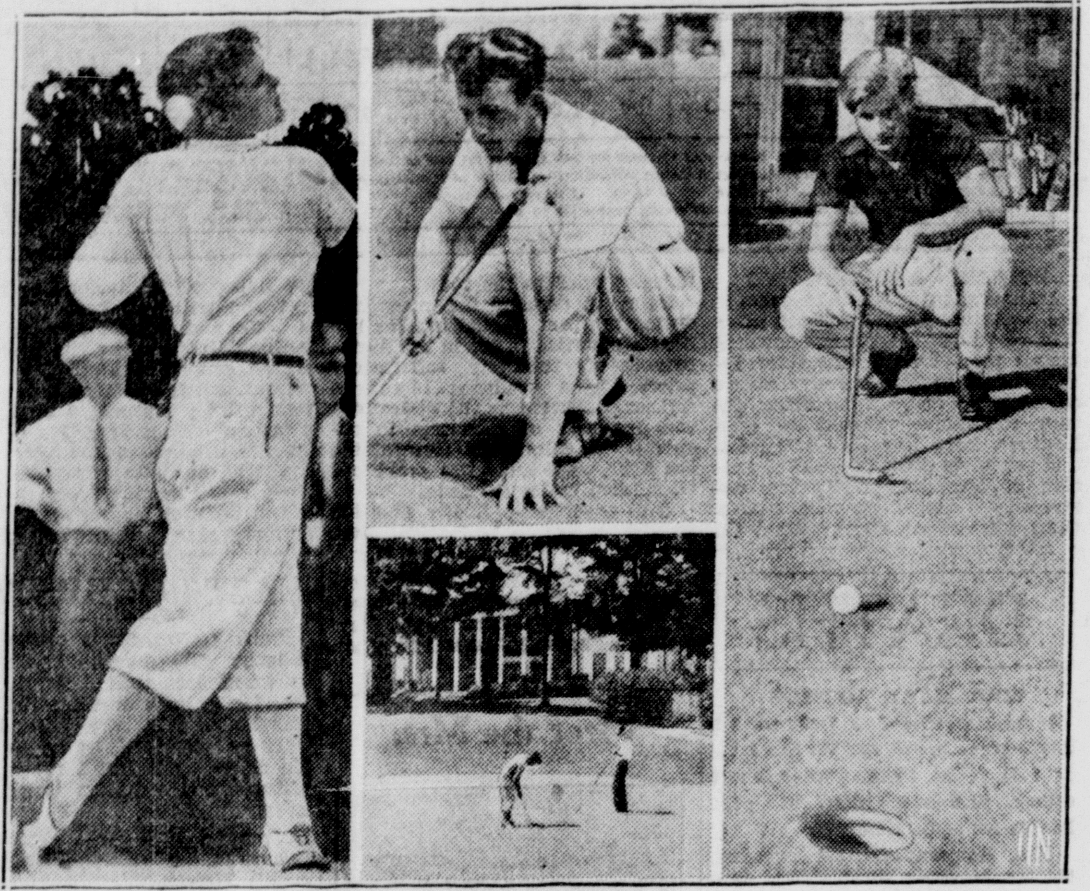

"We have good backs," Layden said, "but they can't get anywhere unless we can catch up the line. The loss of Sullivan, Robinson and Smith upset most of my plans."

"We not only lost a great tackle when Sullivan died, but our spark-plug, as well. We will have to find a new leader, which will be as hard as filling in the uncertain spots in the line."

The schedule: Sept. 28, Kansas at Notre Dame; Oct. 5, at Carnegie Tech.; Oct. 12, at Wisconsin; Oct. 19, Pittsburgh at Notre Dame; Oct. 26, Navy at Baltimore; Nov. 2, at Ohio State; Nov. 9, Northwestern at Notre Dame; Nov. 16, Army at New York; Nov. 23, Southern California at Notre Dame.

PERRY DOUBTS PARKER'S GAME

Frankie Succumbs To Champ In Straight Sets Yesterday

(By Associated Press)

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 3.—Frankie Parker succumbed to Fred Perry in straight sets yesterday in the men's national singles tennis championship and the after-effects of his defeat are felt mostly by the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association today.

Parker went down 6-4, 6-2, 6-1, in a four-round match which saw the defending champion, peeved because he was made to play in a chilly, wet atmosphere, go "all out" in the last two sets and give one of the finest exhibitions ever turned in here.

For two years Parker has been one of the Association's bright young hopefuls. He's one of the youngsters the U. S. L. T. A. is counting on to wrest the International Davis cup from England's Perry and "Bunny" Austin.

In Perry's opinion it is very doubtful if Parker will ever grow up to cup stature.

"I never heard of anybody who got to the top without a forehand," Perry said.

Parker wasn't expected to beat Perry, but he was counted on to make a better showing than he did. The only reason he gave Perry a run in the first set was because the champ was playing against his will and indifferent about the whole thing. When Perry bore down, Parker was just another load of cannon fodder.

Brian Bird First In Race Sunday

Salem Racing Pigeon Club Conducts Mansfield Derby

"Speedy" from the loft of Art Brian was first in a race held by the Salem Racing Pigeon club Sunday in Mansfield, a distance of 90 miles was the station from which the birds were flown.

Maurice Lehman's "Speckled Queen" finished nine hundredths of a yard per minute ahead of the Otis Brian entry to place second.

The birds made fair speed having a favorable west breeze in their favor.

The third race of the young bird series will be from Marion, a distance of 125 miles, next Sunday. Birds will be banded and crates sealed at 2:15 p. m. Saturday.

Nunamaker Wins Horseshoe Title

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Sept. 3.—Blair Nunamaker of East Cleveland is still the champion Ohio state horseshoe pitcher.

Nunamaker, former world's champion, won his third state title yesterday finishing the tournament here with 15 straight victories. For three years now he has won the title without losing a game.

Robert Bell of Warren very nearly spoiled the record yesterday when he threw a double ring which would have won one of the games for him. Nunamaker, however, knocked one of the rings off and went on to win.

Grover Hawley, of Bridgeport defeated John Sebek of Canton and William P. Yocum of Zanesville in the 100-shot play-off and finished in second place. At the end of regular play, the three were tied for second with eleven victories and four defeats each.

Locals Defeat Canton Nine, 5 to 2, Sunday Afternoon

The Canton Merchants went down to defeat at the hands of the Salem Merchants baseball aggregation Sunday, 5 to 2, in a game played at Lake Placidia diamond.

The locals scored two runs in the third inning and three more in the fourth, as they made their hits count. Pitcher John Pukalski hit a home run for Salem. Gipe was on the mound for Canton.

Lisbon Wins Second Half Championship By Beating Lakes, 2-1

Large Crowd Sees Oils Drop Placentia In Game Sunday at Kensington; Lakes Beats Robertsville In Twin Encounter Labor Day

Before a baseball crowd of 900 fans, the Hanna Oils of Lisbon on Sunday defeated the Lake Placentia nine, 2 to 1, for the second half championship of the Columbiana county league. The game was played on the neutral Kensington grounds.

Lisbon now is to face Kensington, first round winner, for the championship soon.

Johnny Hrovatic, on the mound for the Oils Sunday, blanked the Lakes in all but one inning and held the losers to one hit. Placentia only run came in the sixth inning where an error and a hit by Eells brought in the tally.

Lisbon scored in the fourth inning on Joe Hrovatic's hit, a base on balls to Simpson and Eells' error on Johnny Hrovatic's grounder.

Eells, hurling for the Lakes, likewise blanked the Oils in all but one inning, but granted the Lisbonites a total of eight hits. Four errors charged against the Lakes did them no good at all.

Lake Placentia yesterday engaged in a home-stand double-header with Robertsville and came out on top in both encounters. In each game the Lakes won by a margin of one run, scored in the last inning.

The Robertsville team proved a tough one for the Lakes, and in the first tilt, the locals tied each run the Robertsville lads made. The Lakes' winning run in the 19th was scored with none away, 3-2. The Lakes polled seven hits off the visiting pitcher, Harsh, while Schopfer allowed Robertsville five.

The second game between Lake Placentia and Robertsville went 12 innings before the Lakes pushed across the winning run to take the game, 7-6.

See Score Tied

The Lakes in the second game, snatched a 6 to 1 lead by the seventh inning, after which Robertsville brought in a run in the seventh, and added four more in the eighth to knot the score.

The game went to the Lakes then, following three scoreless innings, when Close singled after Eells had gained third following his double and a single by Drakulich. Boren walked, filling the bases and no one was out.

The Lakes at 2:30 p. m. next Sunday will entertain the Alliance Merchants on their home lot.

HERE IS A GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY!
Fine farm of 66 1/2 acres. This farm adjoins the village of Danasus and is one of the finest locations everywhere, for the reason that you have bus service, street-car service, free school service and a gas well which pays $150 per year and also free gas in the house which is piped into several nice brick fireplaces. This is a large house of 12 rooms very suitable for two families, or could be used for a convalescent home or would work out very well for tourists as several cabins could be built on the property. There is a wonderful spring and water could be piped to each cabin. Abundance of fine shrubbery, a variety of all kinds of good fruit. Has a large barn that can tie 20 head of cattle. So keep in mind that this is not only a farm, but a real home and no expense for fuel, besides an income of $150 per year.

"Battle Ax" School Education History

ROCKFORD, Ill. Sept. 3.—W. W. Ankenbrand, one time superintendent of Mansfield, O., schools, says the day of the old battle ax in the city's educational system is definitely past.

Assuming his duties as superintendent here, he laid down the rule for future applicants for teaching positions: "They need not be Pollys beauties, but they must be pretty."

Sylvia Sidney and Herbert Marshall appearing together in "Accent on Youth" Tuesday and Wednesday at the State theater.

With Sylvia Sidney and Herbert Marshall in the leading roles, "Accent on Youth", Paramount's picture of Broadway's current comedy by Samson Raphaelson, directed by Wesley Ruggles, comes to the State theater Tuesday and Wednesday.

Should a man 40 years or older, fall in love with a girl half his age? The question is given a new twist in this film with the lovely Sylvia Sidney, who, by the way, has the smallest waist in the movie world, and Herbert Marshall, who plays the role of a successful playwright who has made his fortune writing of love. Marshall, fortyish, slightly disillusioned believes that it is dangerous for a girl young enough to be his daughter to fall in love with him, or he with her. When his secretary, Sylvia Sidney, who feels very differently about the matter, confesses her love for him, he gives her the role in his new play, in which she scores a personal triumph.

Complications arise when Phillip Reed, who plays opposite Sylvia Sidney in the play, falls in love with her and wants to marry her. Because Marshall is reluctant to tell her of his love, she finally agrees to marry Phillip Reed. Further complications arise when, after a round of sports, golf, tennis, swimming, etc., that makes up her life with Reed, Miss Sidney concludes that it is Marshall she really loves. A showdown between husband and wife, when Reed follows her to Marshall's home, provides a delightfully humorous climax which ends in Marshall's declaring his love for her.

HIGH CRIDERS HOLD WORKOUT

Fifty - One Candidates Limber Up Before Coach Smith

there will probably be a scrimmage as early as Saturday.

Only one outstanding member of the squad was absent at this morning's practice. That was Charles Priesler, who is expected to fill the center position.

During his lecture to the squad, Smith emphasized the no-smoking, no-drinking rule, but permitted the boys to choose their own hour for bedtime. He told the candidates that "if you fellows want to put out, we'll have as good a ball team as any around here. Everybody out here should have the interests of the team at heart and the desire to make a better team their goal."

Herb Brown, assistant football coach and head basketball coach, who spent his summer vacation at his home in Dayton, was also present for practice this morning.

Following is the complete list of candidates who were present at the first practice:

Seeks Capone Cash

Joseph Lawrence, administrator of taxes and penalties of the Department of Justice, pores over documents at his Washington, D. Plan Rites Today For Mrs. H. L. Ickes

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—Intimate friends, representatives of official Washington families and Illinois state officials today joined Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes and his family at the bier of his wife, Anna Wilmarth Ickes, to pay final homage.

At 2 p. m. (Central Standard time) they planned to gather in the Ickes family home in suburban Winnetka for funeral services. Later at a burial plot, the family intended to bid a private farewell to the mother who died in an automobile accident 40 miles north of Santa Fe, N. Mex., Saturday.

Mrs. Ickes' body came home this morning from the west where she was spending a vacation among southwestern Indians whom she knew well and called her friends. She followed by a day her grief-stricken husband who joined his daughter and three sons yesterday to await the arrival at 8:45 a. m. (Central Standard time) today of his wife's body.

From the east other members of the cabinet joined Mrs. Anna Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the President, in a pilgrimage to pay their respects to a woman who carved a name for herself in public office and then retired to devote herself to her husband's career.

Saved from Flames

ASHLAND, Ky., Sept. 3.—Ben H. McTeck, 34 and Mrs. Frances Collins, 22, were in a hospital here today after they were pulled from the flaming wreckage of McTeck's automobile last night following a collision with a street car.

Both were cut and bruised and were believed to have internal injuries.

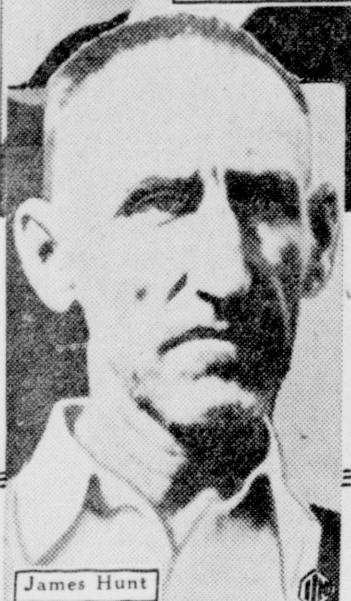

PALO ALTO, Cal.—Pa's Alto roosters can crow a while longer. Members of the council held that roosters have certain inalienable rights in the country, among them the right of unlimited crowing.

Blanche Stamp

James Hunt

Two gun-toting rivals and a straight-shooting gal comprised a triangle which ended in death for one of the trio when Chester Noland, Savannah, Mo., was shot to death. James Hunt, below, farmer of Macon county, Missouri, held on a first degree murder charge, was the rejected suitor of Miss Blanche Stamp, above, companion to Noland when he was killed. Miss Stamp wounded Hunt when she engaged in a gun duel with him after the shooting of Noland.

7 Hurt As Car Goes through Track Fence

WASHINGTON, Pa., Sept. 3.—A racing car driven by Charles Milan, 26, of Martins Ferry, O., crashed through a fence at the Arden Downs speedway yesterday, injuring seven persons, none seriously.

LAMAR, Mo.—Barton countians are talking about "out where the tall corn grows" and they don't mean Iowa. They refer to the Irwin neighborhood where John Coons has a field in which some stalks measure 13 feet.
